I was trained at New York University and majored in Film & Television. Once graduated I started working freelance in the camera department and post-production in NYC before returning home to Sydney.

My eclectic skills in producing, shooting and editing allows me to work as a solo operator or part of a larger team. I have vast experience with tv's, documentaries, corporate, promos, narative stories, live tv and social content.

Below is a small list some of the jobs I have had the pleasure of working on over the years.
